We invite you to attend a screening of

Part of the "Screening the Holocaust Film Series"

This poignant film explores what we can learn from the human tragedy of the Shoah and the remarkable resilience of those that rebuilt their lives in spite of the unimaginable. Featuring interviews with Ben Ferenz, the last living prosecutor of the Nuremberg Trials; Holocaust scholar Michael Berenbaum; as well as Cantor Moshe Taube, who was saved by Oskar Schindler.

Director Ashton Gleckman will be in attendance to introduce the film and participate in an extended conversation afterward.

Monday, December 16, 2019
6:00PM

O Cinema South Beach
1130 Washington Ave
